

Welcome to the 1988
St. Patrick's Day Parade
as Washington, DC Salutes
Dublin's Millennium

Eden Quay on the Liffey River in Dublin. Liberty Hall, the city's tallest building is in the center, and the distinguished Custom House is on the right. Happy 1,000th Birthday!

The Lord Mayor of Dublin is Indeed a Grand Marshal

Gael of the Year

1988 HONOREES

Judith Walsh — ton area who a imagine anyone time than Judit parents had err
of the century,
"company towr
tory, and politic degree was in li worked for the
the Central Int Germany.

people
affairs, or given ylvania y and A rginia, I is done iversity, y of M.
the Lib United

The Armed Forces Color Guard march proudly in our parade.

PHOTO BY THE IRISH EYE

The Champ

Matthew J. Kane is no longer with us. He is resting on a Bed of Shamrocks, warmed by the Cloak of the Almighty, embraced eternally by Bands of Angels who sing the everlasting sweet song of restful peace.

Matt was a friend of the St. Patrick's Day Parade. For nine years he opened up his "Bit O' Ireland" for Parade Fundraisers.

May he rest in peace.

PHOTO BY IRISH EYE

The large monument to Daniel O'Connell, Irish leader known as the Liberator, at O'Connell street and the river, is a landmark for tourists.

Wilton Crimson Cadets

PHOTO BY THE IRISH EYE

West York Bull Dogs Color Guard and Drill Team

PHOTO BY THE IRISH EYE

The O'Neill James School of Irish Dance

PHOTO BY THE IRISH EYE

PHOTO BY THE IRISH EYE
Frank Tiernan (left) chairman of the Marshals and Matt Hansen, chairman of the St. Patrick's Day Parade committee.

PHOTO BY THE IRISH EYE
Sticky Brennan with two children from Northern Ireland who were here with the Bellast Children's Summer Program—Seamus Sullivan, left and Glenn Cardwell, right.

PHOTO BY THE IRISH EYE

One of the doors in Dublin, the city that is famous for its picturesque doors.

PHOTO BY IRISH EYE

Dublin street scene near the bus station on a Sunday morning in early December.

PHOTO BY IRISH EYE

1988 PARADE MAGAZINE

Gerald Norwicki as St. Patrick

PHOTO BY IRISH EYE

Ancient Order of Hibernians, Col. John Down, USMC Div.1, Woodbridge, VA

PHOTO BY THE IRISH EYE

THE PARADE COMMITTEE

PHOTO BY THE IRISH EYE

Shown from left to right: (1st row) John O'Beirne, Cecelia Farley, Peggy O'Beirne, Matthew J. Hanson, Joseph F. O'Connor, Shannon Savage, Matt Lee; (2nd row) Mickey Finn, John Soden, Kay Soden, Joe Barry, Elizabeth Jones, Cathy McDermott, Carole McNally, Betty Tyson, Kathi Hanagan, Patricia McBride; (3rd row) Bill Lewis, Jack Crown, Audrienne Scomey, Frank Tiernan, Isabelle Gallagher, Jack Gallagher, Steve Lynch, Ed McNamara, Patrick Murphy, Jim Snyder.

Miss Helen Hayes, our Parade's 1987 Grand Marshal, and Congressman Steny Hoyer ride in style.